In the 80s, Olivier Baussan went to Burkina Faso to initiate a sustainable partnership with the women producers of shea butter. Today, the L’OCCITANE brand supports projects of impact linked to our values.

Beauty and sensoriality are part of our core activity and that is why women’s leadership, fighting against avoidable blindness are themes that matter to us. But authenticity also guides our work, and that is why we are committed to the transmission of the natural heritage.

Every year, our actions are renewed thanks to the partnerships with NGOs and our employees are getting more and more involved. The customers also contribute to the development of our commitment when they purchase our solidarity products. The implication of all these actors is essential and it is a pleasure to share with you the achievements resulting from this cooperation.

Reinold Geiger,
President of the L’OCCITANE Foundation and L’OCCITANE CEO

Respect and appreciation of traditions and territories are core values of the L’OCCITANE group since its creation.

To ensure the continuity of this approach, every year is a new opportunity to meet the people and discover the localities which contribute to our products singularity.

By supporting local communities and regions that are important to us, we hope to create a social and environmental dynamic over the long term. This report shows the philanthropic activities that guided this commitment in 2014-2015.

Transmission of the natural heritage in Provence
+ 200,000 PEOPLE SENSITIZED
During a trip to Burkina Faso, Olivier Baussan discovered shea butter, the green gold of the Burkinabe. Thanks to the creation of a sustainable production chain that employs 17,000 women, L’OCCITANE became the first importer of Burkina butter. The procedure is labeled fair trade but the founder prefers to name it “co-development”.

L’OCCITANE Foundation wants to deepen this longstanding partnership supporting projects that contribute to the development of the country, ranked 181st out of 187 on the UNDP HDI. Support to NGOs focuses on two fields of action: women’s leadership and fight against avoidable blindness. Focusing on these themes and in this particular country allows us to act considering real needs and to optimize our impact.
In Burkina, shea butter is a huge treasure for the population. In spite of this, the harvesters women still face a lot of difficulties in managing the whole production chain.

L’OCCITANE uses shea butter from the Burkinabe women in a wide range of its products. To extend this partnership, the Foundation chose to focus its action on the development of women’s leadership in the country.

Women for Burkina program relies on three pillars: literacy programs, support on the access to microcredit and socio-economical trainings and valorization of entrepreneurship projects, through the attribution of awards and individual support.
CONTINUATION OF THE LITERACY AND MICROCREDITS PROGRAMS

Since its beginning, the Foundation has supported two training programs for women in Burkina. Literacy is the first step of the process. Three-year programs, developed in partnership with the NGO Aide et Action, enable women to learn how to read and write. Entrepreneurs du Monde completes this achievement providing them socio-economic trainings and facilitating their access to microcredit.

Therefore, this year has strengthened the sustainability of the projects.

A SHEA SOLIDARITY BALM TO SUPPORT BURKINAFA W O MEN

The Ultra Soft Balm was sold for the International Women’s Day, on March 8th. More than € 127,000 were raised in favor of the training of Burkinabe women.

L’OCCITANE FOUNDATION PÉPITE AWARDS

In 2014, three more women were rewarded with the L’OCCITANE Foundation Pépite Award.

Each one receives €10,000 to finance business projects that contribute to the development of Burkinabe communities. Three areas were selected this year: forestry development, production of biodegradable packaging and reinforcement of the poultry production.
The World Health Organization (WHO) estimates that 285 million people are blind and visually impaired in the world. However, 4 out of 5 cases of blindness are avoidable.

To help changing this figure, the L’OCCITANE Foundation chose to focus its action on the prevention of visual impairment.

Since 2012, the Union for Vision program has brought together a plan to fight avoidable blindness in Burkina and projects supported by the international subsidiaries in their country.

L’OCCITANE was born in ‘Alpes de Haute Provence’ region in 1976 and is committed to the transmission of Provence natural heritage since its inception. Philanthropy projects in Provence are now a field of action of L’OCCITANE Foundation and come to life thanks to 6 partners organizations.

The main component of this commitment is the Lavender For Ever program, which supports projects for the preservation of lavender and lavandin in this region.

NATURAL HERITAGE

WORKING FOR LAVENDER’S PRESERVATION

Philanthropy in Provence supports the lavender protection. Indeed, lavender farming is facing two issues: decline caused by phytoplasma, a disease transmitted by a devastating insect, and global warming. In just a few years, lavender production volumes in Provence halved.

CRIEPPAM (Centre Régionalisé Interprofessionnel d’Expérimentation en Plantes à Parfum, Aromatiques et Médicinales), a research center, has launched in May 2012 a fund directed by Olivier Baussan, L’OCCITANE brand’s founder. This fund supports research programs to find ecological solutions to lavender. In 2014, the fund financed the development of a trapping system aimed to understand the interactions between the insect and the lavender crops. Among the proposed ecological solutions, control trials conducted with white clay were chosen as it forms a bandage against insect’s action.

OPENING THE POPES’ PALACE GARDENS TO THE GENERAL PUBLIC

This year, the Foundation also chose to support the renovation of Avignon Popes’ Palace Gardens. The Popes’ Palace is the most important gothic palace in the world and remains a major testimony of cultural and spiritual life in the Middle Age. Its gardens used to be an essential element of daily life organization.

The fund ‘Palais des Papes – Pont d’Avignon’ initiated a project of reconstitution of the gardens according to its organization during Middle Age. In fact, the reproduction includes respecting how alimentation, medicinal plants, but also irrigation techniques and scenery were arranged at the time. Eventually, thanks to the inauguration of a new circuit, the visitors will be able to visit Benedict XII Gardens.
Following the earthquake and the tsunami that shook up Japan on March 11, 2011, L’OCCITANE committed to support the country through the creation of the FUND L’OCCITANE for Japan. €2 million were collected to finance material and human reconstruction projects in local communities.
